8. Planting Two Saplings 4/7/26

I planted two small saplings with my own hands, and it felt like I was giving something beautiful back to nature. Watching those tiny green lives stand tall in the soil filled me with hope and happiness. I watered them and promised myself I'll take care of them every day. It may seem like a small act, but I believe planting trees can bring a big change. I want to make the Earth greener, cleaner, and a better place for the future.
